SMITH INDICTED FOR HOMICIDE

He Will be Tried for Killing Mrs. Katie Smith.

Douglas, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The superior court has been in session all the week, Judge Parker presiding.

The docket, civil and criminal, is large, especially the latter, including several murder cases, most of which have been continued.

The case attracting most attention on account of the person killed and the circumstances of the killing, is that of the state v. Alex Smith, charged with the assassination of Mrs. Katie Smith, at Pearson, about two months ago.

The grand jury has indicted Smith for the killing, and the case may come up today.

The accidental killing of James Spivey Thursday may give the city of Douglas some trouble.

Spivey, who had been in attendance upon the court as a witness, had been discharged and was preparing to go home. While passing the shooting gallery a shot glancing from the shield behind the target struck him, piercing the heart. He left a wife and two small children.

THEATERS.

At the Grand.

At the Grand last night the company headed by Miss Gale lacked the inspiration of an audience that in Atlanta's play house invariably greets a recognized cast and the whole of the first act wore itself through before the actors become enthused. After that the play progressed smoothly and evenly and in a manner entirely creditable to the star, for it must be understood that Miss Florence Gale is the bright, particular star of this constellation.

The little lady has beauty, grace and artistic temperament and dramatic ability of no mean order, and it requires no stretch of the imagination to believe she will yet rank higher.

In doublet and hose, she makes a most winsome and appealing picture, and one could not but wish that she could have had an Orlando who was nearer her artistic equal. Mr. Sylvester's enunciation, particularly, left an impression on the audience that was not altogether favorable.

Mr. Saphore, as Adam, attracted especial attention. Mr. Taylor, as Touchstone, gave a creditable performance; Mr. Lumsden was good, and Miss Bower, and Celia, made a most attractive foil for her impulsive cousin. It must be remarked, however, that all this developed after the first act. The scenery throughout was very pleasing.

"Romeo and Juliet," with E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe in the titular roles, will be presented by Charles Frohman at the Grand Thursday night of next week. The performance will begin promptly at 7:45.

Before the matinee performance of Parsifal in Chicago a heavy rain fell and though the house had been sold out, the local manager doubted if the attendance would be large. But it required something more than a spring rain to dampen the artistic ardor or curiosity of whatever it was that impelled Chicagoans to desire to see the performance. Long before the doors of the theater were opened crowds had gathered and the attendance was a record breaker. Those who have been inclined to criticise Mr. Conreid have declared that it was simply curiosity that carried Americans to see this Parsifal production. This might be true of one city or locality, but it does not account for the remarkable audiences that have greeted Parsifal in every city in which it has been presented. The Atlanta presentation April 26 promises to be no exception to the rule.

At the Bijou.

The coming of "Arizona" to the Bijou next week will be marked as a red letter engagement by theatergoers who will have witnessed performances of this excellent play in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Washington or Chicago. New York critics have unanimously declared that it is the best play which Augustus Thomas, author of "Alabama" and "In Mizzoura" has yet given to the stage.

SENT TO JAIL FOR CONTEMPT

Reid Refused to Answer Questions About Mine Accident.

Birmingham, Ala., March 31.—Coroner Paris, of Jefferson county, who is conducting the investigation of the responsibility of the explosion in Virginia mines, in which 111 persons lost their lives, today ordered A. W. Reid to jail for refusing to answer questions, and fixed his bond at $2,500. Mr. Reid was given until tomorrow morning to make the bond.

The coroner propounded five questions to the witness, who is head of the firm which leased the mines from the owners. The questions were intended to bring out who was in charge of the mines at the time the explosion occurred. The witness refused to answer on the ground that he would incriminate himself.

MRS. [illegible] SEEKS RIGHTS

Her Legal Status Injures Her Standing in the Courts.

Washington, March 31.—Mrs. Florence Maybrick, accompanied by her counsel, called at the state department today and had a long conference with Acting Secretary Adee.

It appears that in the course of the legal proceedings now in progress, involving considerable property interests, some obstacle has been encountered in availing Mrs. Maybrick's testimony because of her peculiar legal status, and she is seeking the good offices of the state department to procure from the British government the papers necessary to completely rehabilitate her in the eye of the law.

The state department probably will take up the matter with the American embassy in London.

The New International Encyclopaedia has received "The Grand Prize" (the highest award) at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

Adopted by the Board of Education for use in the Public Schools of New York and Boston.

An Unanswerable Argument.

No intelligent person can think for a moment that we could sell to over 1,000 Colleges, Schools and Public Libraries an encyclopaedia unless it was well known to the purchasers as one which would fulfill the most exacting requirements of the institutions for which it was bought. Students and others who are using the encyclopaedia constantly must have one which is authoritative and one in which they can find the latest information extant on any subject to which they may refer.

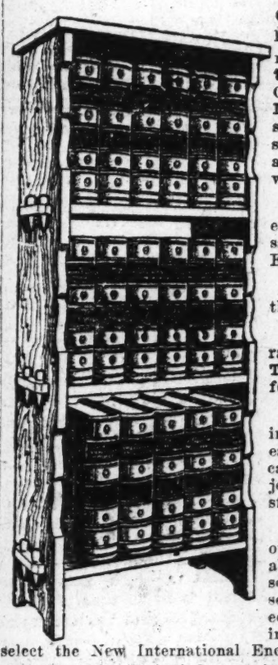

Although only completed May, 1904, over 1,000 Colleges, Schools and Public Libraries have already purchased

The New International Encyclopaedia

A partial list of such purchasers is given, that you may see for yourself that the most important institutions are enrolled in the list.

Most of these purchasers already possessed encyclopaedias, so that in their buying can be found the best of reasons—the necessity of possessing an encyclopaedia which is better, newer and more useful tha nany other.

The New International Encyclopaedia is an entirely new work. It is not a revision of, nor is it based on, any existing work.

In selecting the Editor-in-Chief Daniel Coit Gilman, LL. D., President Johns Hopkins University (1876-1902), President Carnegie Institution (1902-1905); Harry Thurston Peck, Ph. D., L. H. D., Professor in Columbia University; Frank Moore Colby, M. A., late Professor in New York University, men of national reputation were sought to give the weight of unquestioned authority to every article to which they would give a place in the encyclopaedia.

As a result of their labors we offer an encyclopaedia which the New York Sun says "is the most helpful encyclopaedia in English that we have seen."

"Its information is brought down into the year 1904.

It contains 16,339 pages, 67,097 separate articles on over 100,000 subjects. The illustrations are on a scale never before attempted in such a work.

You need an encyclopaedia—you need it in your home where you can consult it easily, where your wife and your children can have it at hand for reference on subjects arising in reading, conversation or study.

The same reason that induced the choice of the New International Encyclopaedia above all others for the 1,000 different schools and libraries should govern your selection. If such buyers, schooled in educational work, best capable of judging what is best and most serviceable, select the New International Encyclopaedia, it will certainly prove suitable for you. Their judgment is safe to follow.

Let any one, professional man, student, scientist, business man, mechanic, aye, even laborer, in any field of human occupation, go over in his mind the advance of knowledge, processes or methods of interest to him alone within the past ten years, and he must know that an encyclopaedia ten years old or more would be almost useless to him.

To have been written and published ten years later, with ten years more of human knowledge on its pages than any other encyclopaedia of its class in print today, is to offer an unanswerable argument for the selection of this encyclopaedia in preference to any or all others.

In connection with the Encyclopaedia we are issuing a companion volume containing courses for reading and study in the New International, which will greatly increase the value of the Encyclopaedia to you.

We would like to send you an elaborate 80-page book, which we have prepared descriptive of this monumental work. It contains maps, full-page colored lithographs and other illustrations from the Encyclopaedia; also sample pages and a mass of other interesting matter designed to make you fully acquainted with what you should know before buying.

The New International Encyclopaedia will be appreciated by every member of the family. It is necessary and useful to all every day in the year.

You owe it to yourself at least to examine the New International before making any purchase of an encyclopaedia. Fill out the coupon and send it today.

Demoralized Railroad Schedules.

Public complaint in Atlanta, and, for that matter, throughout Georgia, over the well nigh universal and chronic tendency of the railroads traversing the state to move their trains behind schedule time has swollen to a volume of protest. It has come to be almost the exception, rather than the rule, for a train to be on time in Georgia. Indeed, it has become pretty much of a fixed habit for the trains to be behind time—sometimes hours.

Of course, in occasional cases of accident or similar unavoidable delay, the traveling public would be disposed to make due allowances for belated trains, but when the delay seems to be the result of a lax system of train running and a seeming disregard for published schedules on the part of railroad executive officers, it is time to ask if the patrons of the railroads have no rights that are competent to command respect.

The bulk of the trouble seems to be in holding intrastate trains for trunk line connections. It is surprising how many trains from distant cities are reaching Atlanta and other Georgia cities late during weather that ought not to present obstacles to on-the-dot railroading. These late-arriving through trains require, or result in, the holding of the local trains, in many instances, for mail, express and baggage transfer, or interfere with their right of way, disarranging and demoralizing the entire system of schedules, more or less. The result is worry and inconvenience galore. People cannot adjust their business or private affairs to conform to such transportation irregularities, and the delayed mails are another source of popular annoyance. The Constitution is daily in receipt of a bundle of complaints touching bad running time and lack of schedule observance on the part of the railroads, and we might give examples almost ad infinitum.

In addition to the general inconvenience and annoyance of belated trains from end to end of the state, in the larger cities, hundreds of wage-earners who depend on the accommodation trains to carry them from and to their homes in the country every workday morning and evening, are sometimes put to much worry and the danger of loss of employment by the loose observance of schedule time. In Atlanta, for instance our workers come from as far as fifty miles around the city, arriving in time for work on the various suburban trains. That is, they are scheduled to arrive in time for work. We know of clerks, bookkeepers and stenographers living some distance out, with only railroad transportation to depend on, who, because of the chronic lateness of their train, have been compelled to rise at an unseemly hour and take an earlier train and wait more than an hour after reaching Atlanta before their place of work was unlocked for the day. We know others who have had to hire private conveyances to get them into work on time, others who have frequently had to walk a long distance to an electric car line, and we read of one automobile club organized for independence from railroad irregularity in the matter of schedule time.

This condition ought not to exist if it can possibly be remedied, and in the great majority of instances we believe it can be remedied.

The mail contracts of the railroad companies have no business to work a hardship on the traveling public, if the source of the trouble is there. It is due the passenger traffic to respect the published schedules rigidly, even if the mail has to follow on a special bobtail mail train. It is true the railroad companies are involved in heavy forfeitures to the government, in some instances, for failure to make their mail transportation schedules, but that is not a valid reason for demoralizing passenger traffic and causing positive hardship and loss to passenger patrons of the roads.

So far as the people of Georgia are concerned, they have had entirely too much of this kind of business and demand a change. It is high time that this question be taken up seriously and relief granted by the railroads traversing the state. As common carriers they should respect the petitions of their patrons in the premises, without the necessity of appeal to state authority.

The Panama Railway Extortion.

Travelers who have been unfortunate enough to have to pay their fare on the little jerkwater railroad that crosses the isthmus of Panama between Colon and the city of Panama will readily agree with Consul General Gudger that "for many years the passenger, telegraph and freight charges across the isthmus have been very high—in the opinion of many, exorbitant. For several months these charges have been a topic of conversation on the isthmus, and many articles have been published on the subject in the local papers and in the United States."

The reason these charges have been a topic of conversation, as Mr. Gudger states, is because the United States has owned the Panama railway for nearly a year, and it was believed by the people of Panama that Uncle Sam would not continue the exorbitant rates after he undertook the management of the little road. The government has continued to make itself a party to a monopoly most odious to the people of Panama, continuing the contract between the railroad company and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company for keeping rates at the top notch and shutting out competition. It is understood that when Secretary Taft returned from Panama last fall he informed President Roosevelt that this contract could be abrogated on six months' notice. According to Consul General Gudger, the railroad rates across the isthmus will be reduced about one-half in April.

The passenger rate from Colon to Panama is $4 in gold, or about 10 cents a mile, for first-class transportation, and $6 in silver for second-class This fare, high as it is, does not cover the charge for baggage, which is 3 cents a pound, payable in gold. There will, it is said, be no change in the baggage rate after the passenger fare reduction takes place.

The government management of the Panama railway has given rise to a good deal of criticism on the isthmus, and even scandal is hinted at. The Panama canal commissioners are directors in the railway company and as such receive fees for attending directors' meetings.

It would seem that one of the first steps the federal administration should take in its management of the little railway across the isthmus is to wipe out monopoly rates of transportation. It is not considered by the Panamans that the reduction proposed next month goes far enough, although it is conceded that passenger rates prevailing in the United States cannot be duplicated in Panama, owing to the higher expense of railway operation.

The Power of the President.

The board of general appraisers at New York, the judicial body having to do with all tariff matters, has found that President Roosevelt exceeded his authority in arbitrarily postponing for ten days the time when the Cuban reciprocity treaty should go into effect. The treaty, it seems, specified that its provisions should become effective immediately upon its approval by congress, but the president in his proclamation provided it should not go into effect for ten days.

The decision was rendered in a test case brought by importers who brought consignments of Cuban merchandise into this country during that ten days' period. They were assessed the full tariff duty but claimed they should have the benefit of the reduced tariffs of the reciprocity treaty, and the board of general appraisers upholds their claims.

Probably no large amount of imports are effected by this decision, but it serves to call attention to the tendency under the present administration to act without authority of congress.

A more flagrant illustration of this tendency is seen in the action of the president in creating a commission to have general supervision of government building—at least in an advisory capacity—in the District of Columbia. After he had named this commission, the president discovered a law enacted by congress at its session just ended which specifically prohibited department heads and other government officials accepting voluntary or free service, and in the face of that law his commission would have been powerless. Then, in order to whip the devil around the stump, President Roosevelt issued a supplemental order fixing a per diem salary for each member of the commission. This supplemental order has just been revoked, however, because the appointment of such commissioners was found to be in the teeth of the law which prohibits the employment of any person in any executive department at the seat of government or in any subordinate bureau unless such employment is authorized and payment therefor specifically provided in the law granting the appropriations for that department or bureau.

So general has been the criticism of members of congress upon the president's action in creating this commission that the whole question of executive authority to create places and fill them without specific authorization by congress has been submitted to Attorney General Moody for his investigation and opinion. Members of congress contend that if the president can, without authority of congress, appoint officers at per diem wages, and if he can appoint five men, he can with just as much authority appoint five hundred or five thousand, and thus involve the government in untold expense.

The power of creating offices and of making the necessary appropriations therefor rests solely with congress. This should be zealously guarded. The alarming increase of the deficiency appropriations, due to the tendency of the executive departments to involve the government in unauthorized contracts, forced congress at its last session to enact drastic legislation under which executive officers spending more money than appropriated to their departments, or adding illegally to their forces of employees, are made subject to fine and imprisonment.

This legislation applies with just as much force to the president of the United States as to any minor executive official, and it is right it should. President Roosevelt would not willingly break the law of the land; but it is dangerous to have in the white house a man who considers himself above the law, and it is the duty of the attorney general to remind him, in no uncertain way, that the functions of his office are executive and not legislative.

Editor Constitution: In my article entitled "Fertilizers Not Necessary," which appeared in your paper this morning, there is misprint which needs correction. LARGE SHIPMENTS OF LUMBER.

Jacksonville Month's Record Nearly City's Largest.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 31.—Shipments of lumber for Port Jacksonville during the month just closed came near being a record breaker. Most ports compute crossties as lumber, but this is not done at Jacksonville, and the showing made separately today shows a total of 16,021,000 feet of lumber, in addition to the 65,800 pieces of crossties.

Philadelphia, March 31.—Charles E. Metzinger, a publisher, was found dead today in a chair in his office with a bullet wound in his breast. It is supposed he shot himself.

GOSSIP AT THE CAPITOL

THE date of place of meeting for the annual convention of the state association of county school commissioners and members of county boards of education was selected yesterday at a conference attended by State School Commissioner Merritt and several prominent county school commissioners.

The place of meeting selected was Macon, and the date for the convention was named as May 9 10 and 11. The sessions of the convention will be held in the fine new auditorium in that city. Commissioner Merritt will preside, and the delegates to the convention will discuss a wide range of topics pertinent to public schools.

These annual conventions have proven of immense value to the men who manage the public schools of the state, and it is expected this year's meeting will have even more important and valuable results than its precursors.

Commissioners Are Signed.

Three commissions were yesterday signed by Governor J. M. Terrell and mailed by Executive Clerk Blackburn to the newly created officials. Two of these commissions were for Wilkinson county officials, and the third for a Thomas county man.

Hon. J. A. Brannan was commissioned tax collector of the former county. He was elected to this office at a special election held March 22 to fill the vacancy caused by the failure to qualify of W. F. Dupree, elected to that office at the regular fall election. J. H. Hoover was commissioned surveyor of the same county. He was elected on the same day as Mr. Brannan, and on account of the failure to qualify on the part of J. L. Farmer, the surveyor-elect.

Hon. George W. Howard was commissioned tax receiver of Thomas county. He was elected at a special election held March 22 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John F. Howard.

Terrell Entertains Adamson.

Congressman W. C. Adamson, who represents the fourth district of Georgia in the national house of representatives, and who resides at Carrollton, Ga., is spending several days in Atlanta as the guest of Governor Terrell at the executive mansion. The governor on last evening gave an informal dinner to some eight or ten gentlemen in honor of his visitor. Congressman Adamson is one of the most popular men in the Georgia congressional delegation.

A bill of exceptions filed in the supreme court yesterday disclosed the fact that "Macbeth" had been recently convicted of manslaughter in Haralson county. At first Deputy Clerk Logan Bleckley was of the opinion that the noted thane of Cawdor was the plaintiff in error, but further investigation disclosed the fact that the Georgia Macbeth is one Adolphus Macbeth, colored, who, it is said, slew one of his own race some months ago. He was convicted of manslaughter, and now his attorneys, W. R. Hutcheson and James Beall, complain that the judgment was not what it should have been.

Among the prominent visitors at the capitol yesterday were Colonel Norman Miller, of Americus; Judge Gober, of the Blue Ridge circuit, and Representative Covington, of Colquitt county.

Miss Lucy Evans, of Atlanta, has been named sponsor for Georgia at the coming reunion of the United Confederate Veterans, and Miss Lula Scarborough, of Americus, maid of honor. These appointments were announced yesterday in an order issued by General McGlashan, commander of the Georgia division, United Confederate Veterans. The order in full reads:

"Headquarters Georgia Division, Atlanta, March 25, 1905.—Special Order, Series 1905: The camps of the Georgia division, United Confederate Veterans, are hereby notified of the following appointments for the reunion at Louisville, Ky., June 14 and 16:

"Miss Lucy Evans, of Atlanta Ga., as sponsor for Georgia.

"Miss Lula Scarborough, of Americus, Ga., as maid of honor.

"The following staff officers are detailed as an escort, and are instructed to hold themselves ready at all times to serve these ladies and to see to their comfort during the reunion:

"Colonel W. W. Hulbert, Atlanta, Ga.
"Colonel M. J. Cofer, Atlanta, Ga.
"Colonel J. W. Lindsay, Atlanta, Ga.
Major J. R. Sheldon, Savannah, Ga.

"By order of

"P. A. S. McGLASHAN,
"Major General Commanding Georgia Division United Confederate Veterans.
"W. M. CRUMLEY,
"Adjutant General and Chief of Staff."

Yesterday was tax valuation day in the state of Georgia, and when taxes are paid next fall the payments will be fixed and regulated by the amount and value of the property in each tax payer's ownership on that date, March 31.

The law designates the governor, the comptroller general and the state treasurer as a board to fix the valuation day, but limits their discretion to some day before April 1 of each year. This is the first year that the date has ever been fixed as late as March 31. It was done this year in order to cover the large spring increases in mercantile stocks. This action on the part of the board was taken at a meeting yesterday held in the governor's office.

MILLENNIUM TO BE THEME.

Interesting Discussions To Be Heard Next Week at Woodman's Hall.

There are people who believe the world is just entering the millennial reign of Christ, and that a wonderful age of progress, both material and spiritual, is about to be ushered in. They believe that the earth and the great bulk of humanity, both present and past, will, during the next thousand years, be restored to the perfection which 6,000 years ago was exampled in the Garden of Eden.

They reject the idea of eternal torment, claiming it to be unscriptural; asserting that only those who are guilty of sinning willfully against the fullest light are to be considered incorrigible; these, and these only, are to be destroyed in the second death.

They believe that God has for 6,000 years been allowing man to gain a sad experience with sin, and that he will during the next thousand years restrain sin, that man may see righteousness in all of its beauty and witness the blessed results of its reign. Having had 6,000 years' experience with sin and 1,000 years' experience with righteousness, man will be well prepared to make a wise choice as to which he will serve, and will then be tested by the loosing of Satan to deceive those who during this long period shall have failed to become well grounded in godliness. Those being thus deceived will go down into the second death, from which there will be no resurrection.

Such are some of the themes to be treated in two public discourses to be delivered by Mr. Benjamin H. Barton, of Philadelphia, on next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and on Tuesday night following at 7:45 o'clock in Woodmen's hall, No. 122 Peachtree street.

SOME NEWS AND GOSSIP OF GEORGIA POLITICIANS

The declaration of Hon. Pope ...wn in his recent Savannah interview, ...favor of a change from the present ...mary system to what is known as th... South Carolina plan, is being very ...erally discussed by the weekly press ...f the state.

The South Carolina plan, as ... well known, consists of a blanket pri... ...y un- der which county lines are w... ...out. The results are determined by ... total number of votes cast for eac... ...f the several candidates without any ...ard to where those votse are cast. ...ere is provision for a second primary ... within thirty days of the first, in w... ...h the two candidates receiving the hig... ...st vote at the first primary—in all cas... ...where no candidates has received a ...ajority of all votes cast in the first p...mary—run again.

The trend of the comment a...pearing in the weekly press seems to be ...against the adoption of this system for ...Georgia on the ground that it would ...rve to give the large counties a far gre...er proportionate power than they no... enjoy, and that this power would com... to the large counties at the expense ... of the small counties. It is pointed ... at that under the constitutional provisio... which restricts the largest counties ... three members of the lower house of be general assembly while every smal... county has one member, the small couties exercise a far greater influence in the legislature than they would under ny system based upon population only, and, of course, the same proportionate power is enjoyed by the smaller counties in state conventions, where, under the Georgia system, the representation is based on representation in the house of representatives. Thus, by way of illustition, a county having one represetnativ in the house holds one-third as much power in the legislature as Fulton or Chatham or any of the three-representative counties, and exercises the same proportionate power in naming the candidate of the party under the primary syste... which recognizes and respects the couty lines in the make-up of the state convention. It is contended by those who ...k with disfavor upon a change to the blanket primary or South Carolina syem that this would involve the taking away from the small counties of much of te power they now possess. A county wich now has one-third as much power as Fulton, to illustrate, might have ...ot more than one-fiftieth or one-hundredth as much power under the blanke... primary system.

The one-representative coun...s are, of course, very greatly in the m...jority. Of the 137 counties in the state ... 111 have one vote each in the house, 2... have two votes each and 6 have three ...otes each. These 111 one-vote counties ...ave it in their power, of course, to su...render into the hands of the 26 larger ...ounties a large proportion of the powe... they now enjoy, but the weekly papers ...hich have discussed the proposition see... strongly of the opinion that they will ...hesitate a good while before making su... surrender.

The argument of those who ...ppose the suggestion for the adoption o... the South Carolina or blanket primary ...ystem by Georgia is clearly presented ... The Cedartown Standard, which says:

"Several suggestions have come to the front recently, anent state politics, chief among which is a proposition to change the way of nominating governor and state house officers from the old method of a state convention after the state primary, to what is now known as the South Carolina plan, by which a second election is required where no candidate receives a majority of entire vote cast in the primary. Where more than two candidates run, it occurs more frequently than otherwise that there is no choice and the two receiving the highest vote must run the race over, thus entalling the time and expense of two campaigns, which generally prove very expensive luxuries to the people and the candidates.

"This simply means that only the rich can 'stand the pressure,' and that the average citizen, however worthy and fitted for office, stands no show in the game of politics unless he has money—and lots of it—to start with. It practically eliminates a large class of citizens, however able and distinguished, from aspiring to positions of trust unless their bank account is able to meet the demands of modern political methods.

"But the most objectionable feature to the proposed plan is concealed beneath the surface, while on its face it bears the semblance of fairness and democratic rule.

"The new plan would mean that the six largest counties in Georgia, where the six largest cities are located, could easily combine and select every winner for every office from governor on down the list.

"For instance, Savannah or Atlanta could poll more votes, if necessary to get a big turnout, than either the first or seventh congressional districts outside of these large cities, and all that would be necessary to dominate the politics of the state would be the getting together and parceling out the different offices in Georgia, and the 'country' counties would simply be 'not in it.'

"This would wipe out county lines effectually, and the smaller counties would thereby become practically disfranchised.

"We do not believe that the farmers and the citizens of the smaller towns in Georgia are yet prepared to surrender their rights in such a way, and deliver over deliberately to a political hierarchy of our large cities the sacred right to say for us who shall at last hold office in Georgia.

"The present method is time-honored and time-tried, and by it the counties of the state each have their voice in a stote convention through delegates on a fair basis of representation as obtains in the law-making body of the state. The present system is all right for Georgia, and the candidate who wants to place the power to select the nominees of the democratic party in this state into the hands of the few great centers of population and wealth will only see his own finish."

A number of other weekly papers have discussed the proposition in the same general vein. The discussion promises to be very interesting.

Congressman Livingston on Cotton.

Congressman Livingston believes the farmers of Georgia are living up to their promises to cut the cotton acreage by at least 25 per cent. The congressman from the fifth district is in Atlanta for a few days, stopping at the Kimball. He has been spending most of his time since adjournment upon his plantation in Newton county, and he knows from practical experience what the farmers are doing.

"I saw it stated the other day that the fertilizer men claim they have sold as much fertilizer in March as they did last year, and perhaps more. That may be true," said Colonel Livingston yesterday, "But even if true it would be no indication of increased acreage. You see at the end of February the farmers had bought only about 60 per cent as much fertilizer as they had at the same date last year. They might buy a good deal more this March than they did last still not exceed the 75 per cent of last year's purchase upon which they have agreed. My observation leads me to believe that the compact to raise a crop only 75 per cent as great as that of last year is being generally observed."

Colonel Livingston became reminiscent in gossiping about the membership of the house of representatives. "I was looking up the old lists the other day," said he, "and found that of all the men who entered the fifty-second congress as new members, there are but five besides myself remaining. These are Messrs. DeArmond, of Missouri; Hull, of Iowa; Jones, of Virginia; Meyer, of Louisiana, and Huff, of Pennsylvania. Mr. Huff has not served continuously since then, but the other four have. Of the men who entered congress earlier and who servved in the fifty-second congress there were in the last congress General Harry Bingham, the father of the house; Colonel Bankhead, of Alabama; Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania; General Grosvenor, of Ohio; Colonel Lester, of Savannah; Mr. Payne, of New York; Mr. Robertson, of Louisiana; Mr. Smith, of Illinois; Mr. Wadsworth, of New York; Mr. Williams, of Illinois, and Colonel Richardson, of Tennessee, all of whom have, I believe, served without a break; and Mr. Cochran, of New York; Mr. Lind, of Minnesota; Mr. Pierce, of Tennessee; Mr. Ketcham, of New York, and Mr. Hermann, of Oregon, who had breaks in their term of service. Speaker Cannon had several terms earlier, but he was not a member of the fifty-second congress."

Pension Deficit and Estimates.

Hon. Charles L. Davis, of Meriwether, chairman of the appropriations committee of the Georgia house during 1904, was in the city yesterday. In respect to the meeting held at the capitol to consider the deficit in the pension fund, Mr. Davis took exception to some of the published reports. He called attention to a paragraph in The Constitution which said: "Pension Commissioner Lindsay asked the legislature for some $20,000 more than was given him, and if the appropriation asked for had not been cut down by the general assembly, this deficit would not now have existed."

"That statement," said Mr. Davis, "is not correct and does an injustice to the general assembly. The facts are these: The pension commissioner made an estimate of the amounts which in his judgment would be required to pay the various classes of the pensioners, which estimate was submitted to the appropriations committee. What his estimates were, and the appropriations made by the general assembly based on these estimates, are shown by this table I have prepared."

The table is as follows:

	Estimated for	Appropriated.
Indigent soldiers' roll	$415,000	$415,000
Disabled soldiers..	170,000	170,000
Widows' roll	165,000	160,000
Indigent widows..	120,000	120,000
Total..	$870,000	$865,000

"Which shows," continued Mr. Davis, "that the amount appropriated was only $5,000 less than the commissioner asked for. In considering this matter the appropriations committee, taking into consideration the large percentage in the death rate of widows, in the class of widows for which $165,000 was asked, decided that $160,000 would be nearer the amount required. And as a matter of fact, this amount is within less than $2,000 of the amount called for to pay this class of pensions. This amount of $2,000 will cover all the deficit caused by the legislature's reduction of the figures submitted by the pension commissioner."

M'CURDY ON WAY TO HOME.

President of New York Mutual Life in Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Richard A. McCurdy, president of the New York Mutual Life Insurance Company, spent the greater part of the day in Savannah, arriving shortly after midnight last night and remaining here until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, when his private car was attached to the Southern railway train en route to Columbia, where Mr. McCurdy will spend tonight.

Several days ago Mr. McCurdy was attacked with a serious illness while visiting a Florida resort and he immediately started for the home trip. The physician who accompanied Mr. McCurdy declared that he is now greatly improved. Robert McCurdy, a son of the invalid, his wife and Mrs. Richard A. McCurdy were also occupants of the car.

SUPPOSED ASSAILANTS JAILED.

Three Negroes Held for Assaulting Dr. Logan Recently.

Americus, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Three negroes have been jailed here charged with a murderous assault upon Dr. A. J. Logan, near Americus, several nights ago. Dr. Logan was decoyed from his dwelling to attend a supposed sick neighbor, and a mile away was waylaid and assaulted by three negroes. It is said one of the negroes has made a partial confession of the plot to murder Dr. Logan. The physician escaped from his assailants after firing several shots at them.

PUSHING WORK ON SEWERS.

Elberton Will Soon Have New System in Use.

Elberton, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Superintendent Wagner began work this week in putting in the sewerage system ordered by the city. The work will be pushed to a speedy completion. While the time limit of use of water from Beaver Dam creek has expired, it is most probable that such a truce will be patched up, as to enable the city to get plenty of water until the matter is finally disposed of.

DR. BIGHAM WILL SPEAK.

Memorial Day Address Will Be Made by Him.

Elberton, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The memorial day address this year will be delivered by Dr. J. Bigham. He will be introduced by a member of Jeff Davis chapter. Dr. Bigham, in accepting, made this a prerequisite. A new and pleasing programme will be given.

TWO ARE FINED BY COURT.

Alleged That Sanderson and Bird Tried To Influence Juror.

Montgomery, Ala., March 31.—(Special.)—Judge W. H. Thomas today fined L. A. Sanderson and J. C. Bird $25 apiece on the charge of attempting to influence H. B. Bray, a juror. Sanderson is a lawyer. The case in which Bray served was that of a white man charged with assaulting a negro girl. He was acquitted.

Will Rebuild Pavilion.

Americus, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The city council has ordered the rebuilding of the great pavilion destroyed by fire at Magnolia Dell Monday last. The fine trees were not damaged, as was supposed, and already numerous excursions from Georgia and Alabama are securing dates at this famous summer resort.

POLICE RECOVERING FROM POLITICAL GAME

Effect of Recent Agitation Has Begun to Disappear.

JENNINGS AND BALL BEING CONGRATULATED

General and Severe Criticism of the Police Board Is Not Directed at Captain Jennings — Ball Goes with Lowry Arnold.

The police department has settled down to the steady calm that will prevail until the next general election comes along to excite the men, and the work of the patrolmen will be just as it was before the agitation incident to the politics caught the force in its grip.

At midnight last night Captain Henry Jennings took charge of the police department, and Captain John W. Ball became a private citizen.

Captain Jennings was warmly congratulated yesterday by his hundreds of friends who wished him well in the difficult work that is before him. At the police barracks and at his home the telephones of Captain Ball were ringing nearly all day, while many went to the barracks for the purpose of shaking hands with him and thanking him for the splendid work as head of the police department during the past few years.

The general criticism of the board of police commissioners, because of the displacement of Captain Ball, by no means carries with it any feeling toward the new chief of police, who has been for years one of the efficient men of the city government, and who has hundreds of warm friends and ardent admirers.

The fact that Solicitor Lowry Arnold, of the city criminal court, had offered the place of assistant to Captain Ball was learned of yesterday with great pleasure by the people. Much solicitude about Captain Ball's future was felt, and now that he has secured a place that is both lucrative and satisfactory, his friends are pleased.

Many Visited Barracks.

All through the day Chief Ball was the recipient of visits from members of the department and from citizens of Atlanta, who came to convey to him their regrets at his defeat. Captain John A. Thompson was likewise favored.

Chief Jennings passed a busy day yesterday morning and afternoon.

In the afternoon he was present when the entire police department was sworn in by Orion S. Nunnally, chairman of the police board. All the commissioners were in the court during this ceremony, though several of them left before the end.

Judge Broyles held his court in the afternoon before the beginning of this ceremony. It was the shortest court in the history of the city. But five cases came up for trial, and the time consumed was barely twenty minutes.

"I am deeply appreciative of the honor bestowed upon me in selecting me to head the police department of this city," said Chief Jennings yesterday afternoon to a representative of The Constitution.

"The honor came to me unsought, for though I knew that my name was under consideration, I did not attempt to influence the vote of any of the commissioners.

"Appreciating as I do the honor which has been paid me, I will do all I can toward securing the protection of the citizens of Atlanta, and will use every effort to increase the efficiency of the department.

"So far as I know there are no radical changes to be made in this department. Of course, there are always opportunities of improving the service, and will be for many years to come. When such an opportunity presents itself, I will promptly take advantage of it. But at present I have no plans involving new steps for the department.

"I am very busy today making out the watches, and assigning the men to their positions. I hope to finish this satisfactorily at a very early hour tonight.

"I realize the responsibility of my position all the more because of the fact that I am succeeding so capable and energetic a man as I know Chief Ball to be. I was intimately connected with him for years, and know what a fine chief he has made."

George Cornett Reinstated.

At a called meeting of the board of police commissioners held yesterday afternoon the case of George Cornett was reconsidered.

George Cornett was and is one of the most faithful officers on the police force. He started on the force as a bicycle officer and while in the service of the city contracted rheumatism, from frequent exposure.

Cornett had been in the service for fourteen years, and no hint of an intention to drop him had been given by the board, so the members of the department were dumbfounded after the election when it was found that his name had been left off the list.

The police commissioners yesterday explained that he was not reelected owing to an oversight, and that it was with no intention of dropping him that his name was omitted.

At the meeting of the board yesterday he was put back on the force as a supernumerary. Before he ranked as a regular. It is stated, however, that he will be cared for, being given a position at Grant park.

C. B. Long, one of the supernumeraries elected Thursday night, was dropped at the called meeting and E. A. Coker was put on in his place.

Ball Given Jennings' Job.

Former Chief of Police John W. Ball and the new chief of police, Captain Henry Jennings, will merely exchange places as a result of the shakeup incident to the police election Thursday night.

Chief Ball was yesterday tendered, by Solicitor Lowry Arnold, the place as his assistant, from which Captain Jennings resigned on notification of his election to the office of chief of police. The offer was at once accepted and ex-Chief Ball will assume his new office this morning.

The announcement that Chief Ball, without losing a single day, would secure a position which many of his most ardent friends and admirers considered more desirable than the office for which he had been defeated, created general satisfaction, and he was congratulated on all sides during the day.

Dozens and dozens of friends of the former chief took occasion during the day to express to Mr. Arnold their unqualified approval of his action and to congratulate him on securing such a valuable assistant to Captain Jennings. In speaking of the matter, Mr. Arnold said:

"Captain Jennings and Captain Ball are two of the very best men in the state of Georgia, and, having lost one of them, it was but natural that I should want the other."

The new office which Captain Ball will hold, that of assistant to the solicitor of the criminal court of Atlanta, will take the incumbent, if he so desires, absolutely out of politics and will, many of his friends hope and believe, prove much pleasanter than the office of chief of police.

That Captain Ball is eminently qualified in every way to make a record in his new office, just as bright and just as enviable as he didn the old office, nobody questions and the general public opinion is that both Solitor Arnold and his new assistant are to be congratulated.

A number of subscription lists for a fund for testimonial for John W. Ball have been opened and a large number of subscriptions are being received.

MANY SERVICES FOR SUNDAY

Special Features Announced At Several City Churches.

An unusually full number of special services are arranged for the Atlanta churches tomorrow. The Tabernacle conference will be the big drawing card, but there are a number of other services which will attract many people.

St. Mark Methodist church will begin a revival tomorrow, and the pastor will be assisted by Rev. John P. Lowry, of Arkansas. They have also secured the services of the Mount Hermon male quartet to conduct the singing.

The Universalist church have with them for a few days one of the most prominent of Boston divines. Rev. Q. H. Shinn, D. D., is a well known figure in Boston religious circles, and it is a privilege not often enjoyed by a southern congregation to have him deliver a series of addresses. He speaks tomorrow at 11 o'clock on "The Law of Character Building," and at night on "The Coming of Christ, End of the World and Judgment Day."

Major J. H. Cole, of Michigan, who has been one of the prominent figures of the conference, will occupy the pulpit of Grace Methodist church tomorrow. He has had charge of the devotional hour at the Tabernacle during the entire conference.

Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church, has returned from a ten days' revival work trip to Thomasville, and will occupy his pulpit on Sunday morning.

The Central Presbyterian church has arranged for a very full day of services. There will be a special song service conducted by the new musical director of the church. Mr. Smythe will sing "The Ninety and Nine." The quarterly communion service will be observed at the usual hour in the main auditorium. The pastor, Dr. Rice, will preach at all services.

The Atlanta Baptist Sunday School Association, which is composed of some of the most prominent lay members of the Baptist church in Atlanta, will hold its monthly meeting Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Announcement for Next Week.

The Central Avenue Methodist church will give a musical Monday evening at the church.

The Evangelical Ministers' Association meets in regular monthly session Monday at the First Baptist church at 11 o'clock.

Bishop Keiley, of Savannah, will deliver a lecture in Atlanta next Thursday evening at the Marist college hall. His subject will be "Rome."

On Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the auditorium of the Central Presbyterian church, Bishop Candler will deliver a lecture on Cuba. Bishop Candler has made several visits to this most interesting country and is well acquainted with its conditions. This lecture is for all the ladies of Atlanta, and it is hoped many will take advantage of this opportunity.

WONDERFUL ELECTRIC SPRING.

An electric spring of clear water, coming out of the solid rock on the sidewalk, and emitting beautiful electric sparks. Metal inserted instantly becomes powerfully magnetized. It is just in front of Captain W. B. Burke's "Old Book Store," 58 Marietta street, opposite postoffice. Scientists are mystified. Call and see today before water is stopped.

INCREASE IN PAY TO BE SUPPLIED

Finance Committee Will Find Money for Raising Salaries.

Approrpiation to Water Works Made, Piedmont Park Bonds Will Be Bought, Money Given to Physicians and Other Things of Interest Occur.

The appropriation for the increase in the salaries of policemen and firemen will be made by the finance committee of which Councilman Patterson is chairman. The additional appropriations will be given the departments when the June apportionment sheet is written.

It is therefore certain that the matter will be carried to the courts if Mayor Woodward does not change his mind about the matter. He has stated that he would refuse to sign the warrants which contain the increases for the men of the two departments unless made to do so by mandamus proceedings.

The matter was discussed during the meeting of the finance committee yesterday afternoon. Mayor Pro Tem. Harwell and Alderman Holland desired making the appropriation yesterday, but other members thought it better to wait until the June sheet is written.

"We will find the money," said Councilman Patterson. "We have to do it."

With this understanding and with the agreement that the money for the increases in pay will be supplied next June the finance committee left the topic for other matters.

Money for Water Works.

The apportionment to the water works department, which was to have appeared upon the January money sheet of the finance committee but which was withheld, was made yesterday afternoon and goes to council with the favorable report of the committee next Monday afternoon.

The apportionment was held up pending the investigation of the department and principally because five men had been discharged. It was not known whether these men were to be given back their positions, and therefore the finance committee did not know whether to provide for them on the pay roll.

The following is the apportionment adopted by the finance committeemen yesterday:

Bills for 1904	$ 4,019 40
Pay roll	36,100 00
Supplies and expenses	33,833 00
Tapping	15,000 00
Fuel	26,000 00
Pipes	780 00
Meters	30,000 00
Reservoir puddle core	1,467 00
First installment, pump No. 3	24,569 25
Fourth installment pump No. 2	28,728 82
Dickinson Trust Co., note	5,000 00
Dickinson Trust Co., interest	1,000 00
Coagulating basin	15,000 00
Total	$221,497 47

The apportionment provided for in the January sheet was greater than that adopted yesterday afternoon by $3,900.

Will Purchase Park Bonds.

During its session of yesterday afternoon the finance committee decided to purchase the $60,000 of bonds now outstanding against Piedmont park. The municipality has the privilege of purchasing these bonds during June, 1906.

The purchase will be made by issuing to the bond sinking fund commission $60,000 of municipality 3½ per cent bonds, and with the money from the sale of the $60,000 of park bonds, which bear interest at 5 per cent, will be retured. As the city does not pay interest to the sinking fund commission, the interest on the park bonds, $3,000 per annum, will be saved.

To do this, it will be necessary to obtain permission from the general assembly. Chairman Patterson was requested by the finance committee to confer with the city attorney and have drawn up the proper measure for presentation during the next session of the legislature.

Money for Physicians.

The finance committee will next Monday recommend an appropriation of $500 by council for the entertainment of the American Anti-Tuberculosis League, which meets in Atlanta April 17 to 19, inclusive.

The committee was addressed by Dr. George Brown, president of the league, and Dr. A. H. VanDyke, one of the executive committeemen.

Mayor Pro Tem. Harwell wanted to take the money from the appropriation of $3,500 heretofore appropriated for the entertainment of the National Manufacturers' Association, but he was outvoted.

Walter C. Taylor Resigns.

Park Commissioner Walter C. Taylor yesterday tendered his resignation to Mayor Woodward. It was accepted. The commissioner assigns as a reason for leaving the park board the fact that there has been a continual turmoil in the organization since the first of the year.

The resignation follows:

"Atlanta, Ga., March 31, 1905.—Hon. James G. Woodward, Mayor.—Dear Sir: Now that the affairs of the park board appear to have reached a condition where they will remain settled for at least ninety days, I hereby tender my resignation as a member of the park commission. The business of this branch of the city government has been kept in a continual turmoil since the present board was appointed, due to the action of certain members of the park committee. If this continues, it will be at a loss to the city, and the entire disorganization of this portion of the city's valuable property.

"For these reasons I feel that, in justice to myself, I should resign.

"Thanking you for the courtesy shown me in my appointment, I remain, yours truly,

"WALTER C. TAYLOR."

Report Has Been Written.

The report of the committee of investigation, composed of the water commissioners, has been written and will be submitted to the board of water commissioners during the regular session of next Wednesday afternoon. Until that time it will be withheld from the public.

The contents of the report are, of course, well known. The report is merely an embodiment in dignified and calm language of the findings of the committee of investigation. It will be adopted by the board and spread upon the minutes.

The committee that drafted the report is composed of Commissioner J. W. Pope, Councilman E. V. Carter and Commissioner W. S. Duncan.

Old Paper Is Found.

Deputy Comptroller John Kelham yesterday found among the papers in the safe of the department a document that was read with much interest by those officials at the city hall who saw it.

It was issued from the headquarters of the third military district, which included Georgia, Alabama and Florida, on April 25, 1867, and the writing declares that it is paragraph two of "special orders, No. 8." It is addressed to "His Honor, the Mayor, Atlanta, Ga."

The order follows:

"A vacancy having occurred in the city council of Atlanta, Georgia, by the resignation of A. P. Bell, of the fifth ward, E. W. Holland, esquire, is appointed to the council in his place.

"By command of Brevet Major General John Pope,

"S. K. ANDERSON, Captain,
"Thirty-third United States Infantry and Acting Assistant Adjutant General."

The old document will be of interest to all the older citizens. It was issued at the time that this vicinity was under martial law, and when the city council was appointed by the general in command of the district instead of being elected by the people.

E. W. Holland, now dead, was a well known citizen of Atlanta in 1867. He was the father of Edward Holland, who resides on DeKalb avenue in Edgewood.

Will Test Milk of Cows.

The milk supply of Atlanta will probably be given a tubercular test.

The importance of this work was brought to the attention of the board of health during the session of yesterday afternoon by Dr. Strickler.

The matter was referred to the dairy committee for action. A report will be made during the next session of the board.

Street Committee Meets.

Council's street committee, of which Alderman Holland is chairman, met yesterday afternoon in the committee room at city hall. Only routine matters were discussed.

Tom Wright Leaves Hall.

Tom Wright, one of the faithful colored men in the employ of the municipality at city hall, yesterday gave up his job. He has been in various offices at the city hall for the past ten years and during the last few years has operated the elevator. Wright has been seeking a more lucrative position for some time. Now that summer is approaching he has decided to engage in the ice business. He will drive an ice wagon.

A Living Monument.

If we were to assemble all those who have been cured of heart disease by Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and who would to-day be in their graves had not Dr. Miles' been successful in perfecting this wonderful heart specific, they would populate a large city.

What a remarkable record—a breathing, thinking, moving monument, composed of human lives,—that for which every other earthly possession is sacrificed.

The Miles Medical Co. receive thousands of letters from these people like the following:

"I feel indebted to the Dr. Miles' Heart Cure for my life. I desire to call the attention of others suffering as I did to this remarkable remedy for the heart. For a long time I had suffered from shortness of breath after any little exertion, palpitation of the heart; and at times terrible pain in the region of the heart, so serious that I feared that I would some time drop dead upon the street. One day I read one of your circulars, and immediately went to my druggist and purchased two bottles of the Heart Cure, and took it according to directions, with the result that I am entirely cured. Since then I never miss an opportunity to recommend this remedy to my friends who have heart trouble; in fact I am a traveling advertisement, for I am widely known in this locality."

CAPTAIN RAOUL BUYS W. & MT. V. RAILROAD

JORDAN IS BACK FROM THE WEST

President of Southern Cotton Association Talks of Trip.

Hon. Harvie Jordan, president of the Southern Cotton Association, passed through Atlanta last night en route to his home in Monticello. Mr. Jordan has just completed a tour of Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee.

Since March 10 Mr. Jordan has made on an average of two speeches a day in the interest of the movement inaugurated by the Southern Cotton Association. He has done a vast amount of work in the territory he covered and seems well satisfied with the results accomplished.

In speaking of his trip last night Mr. Jordan said:

"The people in the states I have visited are bound to reduce their acreage. They are counting on the people of Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Alabama to stand by the agreement. Less fertilizer will be used than in many years and there is not the slightest doubt that the acreage will be reduced fully 25 per cent.

"I have never seen so much enthusiasm manifested, and the people of the south have at last realized that by standing together they can control the price of the world's greatest staple. I am glad to know that this section of the south is so thoroughly organized. The officers have done a great work and I am proud of the results accomplished."

Mr. Jordan will make a speech today to the farmers of his home county, Jasper. A big meeting is to be held at Monticello at noon today. For some time Mr. Jordan's own people have been asking that he make them a speech and he will be given an ovation by them today. Tuesday he will make an address in some other county of the state. He will return to Atlanta Thursday.

Frightful Suffering Relieved.

Suffering frightfully from the virulent poisons of undigested food, C. G. Grayson, of Lula, Miss., took Dr. King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes, "that I was cured." All stomach and bowel disorders give way to their tonic, laxative properties. 25c at all drug stores, guaranteed.

Vast Development Sure to Follow Georgia Road Purchase.

AUGUSTA TO THE GULF ON ALMOST AIR LINE

By Brief Extensions Augusta Could Be Brought in Close Touch with Tallahassee and Port of Carrabelle, on the Gulf.

Captain William Green Raoul, when seen yesterday in regard to the rumor that he had purchased the Wadley and Mount Vernon road, and intended to merge it with the Atlantic and Birmingham road, of which he is president, he stated that he had bought the line. The Wadley and Mount Vernon is 42 miles in length, and extends from Wadley, Ga., to a point on the Oconee river, just below Rockledge.

When questioned as to the report of the purpose of purchase and what his plans were in regard to the property, Captain Raoul, while he admitted that he had made the purchase, declined positively to discuss his future plans in regard to it, further than to say that its extension and development is in contemplation, but his purpose and intentions have not reached such tangible shape as to make it desirable or practicable to discuss the matter at the present time.

Captain Raoul was next asked if he was in any way connected with the rumored purchase of the Wadley and Mount Vernon Extension Company and the Ocilla, Pinebloom and Valdosta railroad. In reply to the inquiry he declared that these roads do not fit in at all with his plans and expectations wit hregard to the other property, which he acknowledges has been bought up. He denies that he is in any way interested in the purchase of this property if, indeed it has been purchased.

Possible Development.

The taking over of the Wadley and Mount Vernon road by Captain Raoul opens an engaging subject for speculation with regard to the real purpose on foot in this enterprise.

The Atlantic and Birmingham, of which Captain Raoul is president, is now operating between Brunswick and Montezuma, and plans are on foot for the extension of the road at an early date on to Atlanta, and thence to Birmingham. Captain Raoul also controls the line of the Atlantic and Birmingham operating between Thomasville and Fitzgerald, and making a junction with the main line at the latter point.

The two lines of road are almost on an air line between Thomasville and Augusta, with hardly more than 50 miles to be constructed to make a junction between Fitzgerald and the Southern terminus of the Wadley and Mount Vernon at the Oconee river. With this done, there would not be more than the same stretch of road to be laid to enter Augusta. This would practically give an air line between Thomasville and Augusta, a distance of not more than 180 miles.

Rumor will not permit the schemes of possible development to stop even here, but points out that a natural extension of not more than 20 miles in a continuously straight line would reach Tallahassee, the capital of Florida, and from thence, using the lines of the Georgia, Florida and Alabama, would give the road an outlet to deep water at Carrabelle on the gulf, and furnish to Augusta and Carolina points, the most direct and the shortest route by many miles to a gulf port and the Panama canal.

Section Traversed.

Such a road, though built almost on an airline, would enter many of the largest and most enterprising and progressive cities in middle and south Georgia. With Augusta the northern terminus the road would pass through Wadley, making connection there with the Central of Georgia, strike the Dublin and Savannah at Rockledge, make a junction with the Seaboard Air Line and the Southern at McRae, tap the line of the Atlantic and Birmingham at Fitzgerald, continue through Tifton and Moultrie to Thomasville, and thence seek the road of President Williams at the capital of Florida. Such a line would offer the shortest possible outlet for the tobacco of the Carolinas, the cotton of middle Georgia and the lumber and naval stores of south Georgia to Carrabelle, and thence by steamer with the ports of the world.

While Captain Raoul declined to be drawn into a discussion of the vast possibilities of such a step, the advantages to be secured by the necessary extensions, amounting to not more than 120 miles, are too obvious to need further proof to bring conviction to the minds of those familiar with railway traffic in this section.

DR. WILLIAMS IS ACQUITTED.

Prominent Carroll Physician Was Accused of Selling Whisky.

Carrollton, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—City court of Carrollton convened here yesterday in adjourned term for the especial purpose of trying the case of the state v. Dr. H. M. Williams, an old and very highly respected citizen and prominent physician of Bowdon, on the charge of selling whisky. Much interest has been manifested in this case, on account of the prominence and high professional standing of the defendant. In spite of the grand array of witnesses in attendance, who were here at instance of the state, the defense using only the state witnesses, obtained a verdict of not guilty. It was a pathetic scene in the court house returned the verdict. Dr. Williams, who is old and feeble, broke completely down in his joy at being acquitted of this charge. A considerable demonstration took place in his favor by the many interested spectators present.

LAITY DEMANDS GREAT POWER

Maryland Methodists Rise Against Ministerial Control.

Declared That Claim That Conference Deals Chiefly with Ministerial Affairs I Not Borne Out by Facts, as Laymen Support Church.

Washington, March 31.—At today's session of the Baltimore Methodist conference a resolution for equal representation for laymen which dealt with the question at some length was introduced, declaring among other things:

"We believe the claim that annual conferences have to do exclusively with ministerial matters is not borne out by the facts. It is the laymen's loyalty and gifts to the church, not the ministers alone, that have made it possible for methodism to exist."

The laymen who spoke on the subject announced their purpose of waging active warfare throughout the country for the change prior to the general conference in 1908.

Roosevelt Given Praise.

President Lewis M. Bacon, of Maryland, of the Laymen's Association, in the course of his annual address, eulogized President Roosevelt for his loyalty to the church of his faith, and stated that when Mr. Roosevelt first came to Washington he did not cast about to find a large and fashionable congregation, but attended a congregation that met in a most humble and unpretentious edifice.

In the afternoon the conference celebrated the anniversary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society. There was an address by Miss Bertha Fowler, of Philadelphia, on "The United States as a Mission Field." Secretary Shaw delivered an address on the manner of dealing with the poor in churches. He said in part:

Church for All Classes.

"Not long ago a Methodist minister asked me 'why is it that the Catholic church is more successful in reaching the poor than we?' I replied: 'That is easy. They never talk about it. They draw no distinction. They never abuse the one nor patronize the other.'

"The Methodist church was designed for people; rich people and poor people; educated people and uneducated people; cultured and uncultured. But I do not believe it was ever the design of God or man that it should be the church of one to the exclusion of the other. In my judgment the only way to keep it the church of all is to stop drawing distinction between the sons of men. I believe there is more prejudice on the part of those whom the world calls poor against those whom the world calls rich than vice versa. But I believe this prejudice is only heightened by continually talking about it, and if this were a popular audience as distinguished from a gathering of church workers I would not refer to the subject."

Official Now Dividing City Into Districts for the Work.

Dublin, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Inspector W. D. Platt, of the postoffice department, is completing his work of getting Dublin divided up so that the free delivery of mail may be begun in this city as soon as possible.

There will be three carriers put on at first, and already there are dozens of applicants for the position.

As soon as Inspector Platt's report is sent to Washington and is approved by the department, the carriers will be selected and the people of Dublin will begin to enjoy the convenience of having their mail delivered at their doors.

Suspnsion of Chif.

The suspension for ninety days of Chief of Police J. L. Cowart, which penalty was imposed by the mayor and council a few days ago on account of the officer's shooting a young man named Deal, who came from North Carolina, has caused a great deal of discussion in the city, and it is not quite certain that the matter is at an end. It is said that the young man who was wounded will prosecute Mr. Cowart for assault with intent to murder.

The condition of Deal is not much improved. He was shot in one of his legs, just below the knee, and his physicians fear that amputation will be necessary. The suspension of Chief Cowart takes place tomorrow, and Dublin will be without a head to its police department until the council selects a successor.

GREAT CURES PERFORMED

By the Great Advertiser Last Night--20,000 People on the Grounds.

An audience of fully 20,000 people was on the Jackson street show grounds last night to see and hear Payne, the great advertiser.

Mr. Payne is still suffering from a severe cold, but he was on the platform for a few minutes and repeated his act of last night by throwing into the audience all the money which came into his hands from the sale of his wonderful blood remedy—Payne's New Discovery.

Owing to the fact that Mr. Payne is unwell, he was unable to demonstrate upon all who came on the platform.

Mr. J. S. Simesly, who lives at the corner of Gossperie and Randolph streets, was the first person on the platform last night. He has been a sufferer from deafness for five years.

After rubbing his ears vigorously for five minutes with the Quick Relief Remedy Mr. Simesly stood up before the vast audience and stated that he could hear the snap of fingers 10 feet away. After leaving the platform and going to the tent in the rear the band began to play and Mr. Simesly requested one of Mr. Payne's representatives to state to the audience that it was the first time in five years he had heard the sound of music.

The next person to come up for treatment was Mrs. C. E. Jinks, of 184 Maple street. She was suffering from stiffness of the right shoulder, so much so that she was unable to use the arm at all. After five minutes' application of the Quick Relief Oil the woman stood up before the audience and worked and used her arm with perfect ease.

The cures made by the Payne remedies are something wonderful and certainly demonstrate beyond doubt the merits of the medicine.

The offices of Mr. Payne are located at 6½ South Broad street and are open from 9 a. m. to 12 m. and from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. All persons are invited to call and consult him and his physicians free of charge.

The show last night was the best yet given by the Payne aggregation. The performance will begin tonight at 7:45 o'clock promptly.

The one great virtue of Burnett's Vanilla Extract is purity. It is real vanilla extract and nothing but vanilla extract. (Always use Burnett's).

THE HOUSE BEAUTIFUL.

How To Make It Attractive at a Small Cost.

Who said spring was not here? Don't you hear the birds singing in the trees? Don't you see the grass peeping from the ground, and aren't the zephyrs pleasant as they come from "Way down south where the lilly blooms?" All these things remind us of the fact that house cleaning season is at hand. To be sure you will not want to keep on your walls the old papers that have been there for so long. You want something that is new—is stylish—strictly up-to-date, fresh and inviting. These papers can be obtained from the Georgia Paint and Glass Company at 40 Peachtree street. Perhaps there is not another such assortment of wall papers to be found in Atlanta as may be found at this place. If you wish ingrains you will find them there, and you know ingrains have both culture and style this season. If you wish other varieties of paper you will find them there, also. In fact, you will find anything for the hall, library, dining room or bed room at wonderfully low prices. When you are down town today, or for that matter, at any time, stop at 40 Peachtree street and Mr. Rhorer will show you his stock of wall papers. They are beautiful to look at, even if you do not wish to buy. If you cannot go down call Bell 'phone 1045 and Mr. Rhorer will be glad to talk to you about it.

MAJOR COLE IS TO SPEAK.

Will Addres Y. M. C. A. Boys Sunday at Central Congregational Church.

A monster mass meeting for boys has been arranged for by the boys' department of the Young Men's Christian Association to occur tomorrow at the Central Congregational church at 3 o'clock.

MAJOR J. H. COLE,
Who Will Address the Boys' Meeting Sunday.

The association has sent invitations to all the city school and Sunday school teachers urging that boys be asked to attend this meeting. It is not believed there will be room to accommodate the crowd that will probably be on hand.

Major J. H. Cole, one of the speakers at the Tabernacle conference, now in session, will address the boys on the following subject. "The Greatest Battle Ever Fought." Major Cole is an ex-United States army officer, having served during the civil war. He entered the army as a private and was mustered out as a major. He left home to begin the battle of life at 9 years of age, worked his way up in the business world, holding such important positions as bookkeeper and cashier in a bank. During his early manhood, he became interested in the work of the Young Men's Christian Association through D. L. Moody, who placed him in charge of his devotional work in the Chicago association, when Mr. Moody made his first trip to Europe. After that he became a secretary of the association, and is deeply interested in young people.

The full orchestra of the boys' department of sixteen instruments will be present and other special music is being ar-

AGILE WINS OUT IN FEATURE RACE

Captain Brown's Colt Home in Front.

John Smulski and Jack Long Beaten by Brown Colt, Which Galloped Home in an Easy Fashion Ahead of His Field.

Memphis, Tenn., March 31.—Interest in today's card at Montgomery park centered in the fourth race, a 1 1-16-mile event, for 3-year-olds, which furnished a preliminary to the Tennessee derby, to be run next Monday. Captain S. S. Brown's brown colt, Agile, by Sir Dixon-Alpena, easily defeated C. R. Ellison's John Smulski and the Top Gallant colt, Jack Lory, from the stables of John W. Schorr, both of whom are conceded to be the best 3-year-olds in their respective stables and prominent candidates for the derby.

According to the opinion of horsemen the derby will be fought out at the wire by Agile and Ram's Horn, winner of the Montgomery handicap, which was decided last Monday. Agile today ran a beautiful race and won in a gallop. John Smulski wrested second place from Jack Lory by a narrow margin. Only two favorites won today, Agile at 2 to 5, and William Maffitt, who was backed down from 4 to 1 to 2s. The victory of the Saracen in the first race, however, at odds of 8 to 5, was popular. Aurumaster, whose opening price of 8 to 1, had receded to 9 to 2 at post time, had little difficulty in disposing of his field in the third race. Weather clear; track fast.

FIRST RACE—Selling, 2-year-olds, 4 1-2 furlongs: The Saracen, 108 (J. Martin), 8 to 5, won; Lieber, 110 (W. Fischer), 3 to 2, second; Handbag, 101 (Schilling), 1 to 1, third. Time, :56 3-4. Monita, Japanese Maid, Oasis, Blue Pirate, Queen and Pinsticker ran.

SECOND RACE—Three-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs: Waterside, 109 (Buchannan), 3 to 1, won; Otto Stifel, 110 (Henry), 2 to 1, second; Miss Inez, 104 (Hildebrand), 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:14 3-4. Early Boy and Blytheness ran.

THIRD RACE—Selling, 3-year-olds and up, 1 1-8 miles: Aurumaster, 107 (Shaver), 9 to 5, won; Evylyn Kinsey, 115 (J. Martin), 5 to 2, second; Brooklyn, 117 (H. Phillips), 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:57. Gilsen, Tete Noir and Chippie Thorpe ran.

FOURTH RACE—The Business Men's Club purse, 3-year-olds, 1 1-16 miles: Agile, 110 (J. Martin), 2 to 5, won; John Smulski, 110 (H. Phillips), 8 to 1, second; Jack Lory, 110 (Wonderly), 16 to 5, third. Time, 1:49. Ed Sheridan ran.

FIFTH RACE—Two-year-olds, 4 furlongs: Wiliam Maffitt, 108 (Hildebrand), 2 to 1, won; Beechwood, 105 (H. Phillips), 18 to 5, second; Meadow Breeze, 103 (J. McIntyre), 4 to 1, third. Time, :50 1-4. James Reddick, Dr. McCarthy, High Chaice, Pattonville, Rosi Nini and Holscher ran.

SIXTH RACE—Selling, 4-year-olds and up, 7 furlongs: Dewey, 109 (Aubuchon), 18 to 5, won; Forehand, 105 (Shaver), 4 to 1, second; The Cure, 104 (Hildebrand), 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:29 1-2. Stand Pat, Ballal, Frank Rice, Dapple Gold, Red Raven, Rough and Tumble, Federal and Gilfain ran.

CHESBRO FACES ATLANTA TODAY

Great Spit Ball Artist Will Work at Piedmont Park Today.

The great Chesbro, the spit ball artist of renown, will face the Atlanta batters today, the game beginning this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Manager Jordan will probably send in Charles Smith and Burnum to do the work today, and he hopes to give Chesbro a run for his money with these two twirlers, considered the best right and left handers on his staff.

Last season Chesbro pitched the last exhibition game in Atlanta that the New York team played here, and the locals never had a show.

The New York team is one of the greatest in the country, and it seems that this team will either win the pennant this year or come very near to it.

Hal Chase, the big first baseman, who so nearly stirred up a war between the minors and the majors, will probably play first base for the Gothamites this afternoon, and then Atlanta fans can judge as to whether he was worth all the discussion carried on about him.

Jimmy Williams will be at second, with the only Kid Elberfield at short, and Wid Conroy prancing around third. It will look like old times.

In the outfield Fultz, Keeler and Dougherty or Anderson will be the men the New Yorkers depend on to win the pennant for them. Kleinow will be behind the bat.

Krug is getting well again, and it is believed that he will be in shape this afternoon for another try at third base. Noblett is suffering from a very bad arm, and is not in shape to play the game. This bad arm is the cause of his several wild throws across the diamond in the second game with Philadelphia.

BEANEATERS RAISE A ROW.

Visitors Mad Over Their Defeat by the Savannah Team.

Savannah, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The game this afternoon between the South Atlantic Savannah team and the Boston Nationals broke up in a row. The score stood nine to one in favor of Savannah in the ninth inning, the Savannah players having batted Wilhelm and Harley for seventeen hits, and kept the Bostons chasing the ball all over the field. With two men out and one man on third Manning came to the bat for Savannah and knocked a safe hit to right field.

Tenny on first for Boston declared it a foul, and after the man on third ran out to take a hand in the row, and the Savannah players were preparing to protect the umpire, when Latham ran up before the grand stand and announced that Boston had forfeited the game to Savannah nine to nothing. He had ordered Tenny out of the game and Tenny had refused to get out.

STEEPLECHASE FOR KIRKLAND.

All Calculations Upset by Horse's Victory.

Liverpool, March 31.—Kirkland won the grand national steeplechase of 2,500 sovereigns today. Napper Tandy was second and Buckaway II was third. Twenty-seven horses started.

The result of the grand national was a complete upset of all calculations. King Edward's new purchase, Moifa, was generally regarded as an almost certain winner, but his jockey this morning was kicked and was unable to ride, possibly accounting for the defeat of the favorite. The king was present with a large party to see the race.

Mr. Gollan's Sea Horse II, recently purchased by an American sportsman, "Mr. Cotton," ran, but was not placed.

MERCER DEFEATS AUBURN.

The Hats Here

Millinery leadership is wrested, won—not prettily yielded or assumed. Because season after season our Hats have proved the most stylish and the most beautiful, because charges are really based on the values given, because our designers are equal to all general and individual demands for original and exclusive bits of elegance, Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s Millinery Is The Vogue. The Spring showing was first presented two weeks ago. Today the collection is more complete in many ways, by reason of the fine new Hats that have just been produced in our own workrooms.

Every one is a premier—a masterpiece. The aggregate, composing the most artistic exhibition we have ever held. It contains not one style that is mediocre in character or construction.

These Hats prove that the sceptre of our reign in matters of Fashion is borne by strong hands. Today we display Hats that would not be out of place in the most dignified salons of Paris and New York. Some are simple and girlish, designed for the debutante; others have the mellowed, refined elegance that suggests the matron of faultless taste and high social distinction.

Terse Hints Concerning Style.

Small shapes occupy a central portion. Scant-trimmed. Neat—simple—the simplicity created by broad conception and big grasp of art. Many are short in front—almost abrupt—tilted high up in back—saucy, pert, piquant. You know the effect? You've seen it in the daintily retrousse—turned-up—nose that has redeemed an otherwise uninteresting face.

The popularity of the "polo" shape has been prodigiously proclaimed. Prodigal here.

Women never weary of Picture Hats—not since Jeanne Poisson, sometimes called Madame Pompadour, and Jeannette de Vaubernier, who, as La du Barry rushed to the limit of frivolity when Louis XV lolled on the throne of France, and the unfortunate Queen Marie Antoinette first gave the witchery of their approving smile to the actressy, flaunting, plumed and droopy affairs we now call Picture Hats. Why "Picture" Hats? Because present-day Paris designers went back to the "periods" and got inspiration from the portraits painted by Greuze, Van Loo, Decreux, Lebrun, Gainesborough and other artists who have embalmed the Fashions of the times upon their canvases.

Colors: Bronze, Onion Browns, Dusky Purples, Velasquez Blue, Claret, Chartreuse, American Beauty, Malaga, Banane, all the Golden and Coppery tints, Bluet, Lilac, Peach, Watermelon, and Grape tones.

Trimmings: Heliotrope, Violet, Lotus Flowers, Rose, Hyacinths—all the buds and blosom that ever grew riotously and richly in conservatory or wildwood. Small feathers and Velvet Ribbon are also in evidence.

CLAIM ESTATE IS MISMANAGED

Mrs. A. L. Adair Asks That Receiver be Made Permanent.

Interventor Asserts That Estate of E. W. Marsh Is Being Recklessly Handled by J. G. St. Amand—Arkwright Is Named Receiver.

Declaring that the estate of the E. W. Marsh is being recklessly and fraudulently handled by J. G. St. Amand, one of the three executors, Mrs. Adelaide L. Adair, daughter of the deceased, came before Judge Lumpkin yesterday with an intervention prayer.

The paper declars that the intervention by Hopkins & Son and Rosser & Brandon, attorneys for the interventor, are not only among the longest court document so far recorded in Fulton county, but are in all probability as sensational and interesting as any engrossment in the books of the clerk's office can present.

The paper declares that the interventor's father, E. W. Marsh, died in October, 1900, leaving as his heirs his widow, Mrs. A. F. Marsh; two sons, Spencer S. March and McAllen B. Marsh, and the intervenor, Mrs. Adalaide L. Adair. By the will setting up these four heirs, J. G. St. Amand, Spencer S. Marsh and McAllen B. Marsh, the last two being among the heirs, were qualified as executors. Soon after the executors of the estate assumed control, Mrs. Marsh, the widow, disposed of her interest in the estate by selling to the other heirs. Then, so the papers declare, Executor St. Amand assumed charge of the entire estate and since that time has been in complete control, acting as though he alone was responsible for all transactions. To his management of the property there appears to have been no objections, at least none of record, until Mrs. Adair filed her bill of intervention yesterday.

Value of the Estate.

Beginning with paragraph 6 the intervenor asserts that her father left a magnificent estate, consisting of real estate in Fulton, Douglas, Walker and Chattooga counties, this state, to say nothing of a large fortune in personal property, stocks, bonds and notes due him, the realty in Fulton county alone being given a valuation of $75,000. In Douglas county the estate's schedule presented many acres of rich and valuable land, a fine hotel with 170 rooms, the hotel fully and completely furnished and equipped, and the celebrated Bowden Lithia Springs, a "springs with excellent medicinal water in inexhaustible quantity," the waters having an extensive sale. The same paragraph placed the cost of the hotel alone to the late Mr. Marsh at $200,000. The property in Walker and Chattooga counties is described as valuable on account of the iron and coal veins which have been located and worked.

At Mr. Marsh's death, a paragraph asserts, the liabilities of the estate were $98,360.27. They really appeared to be $106,860, but of that amount $8,500 represented debts owned by the intervenor's husband and indorsed by her father. This debt, however, was secured by a lien on 29 acres of land near Atlanta on the 9-mile circle, which was worth $20,000 and which was transferred to the estate, enriching that estate by $11,500, the difference between the debt of $8,500 and the value of the property—$20,000. This property was to be deeded again to Mrs. Adair, but "notwithstanding the repeated demands for that deed the executor, St. Amand, has declined to make the deed."

The obligations of the estate were $114,360.27, but from these should be deducted $16,000, leaving the residue of debt $98,360.27.

It is then declared that St. Amand has conducted the management of the estate with criminal negligence, has shown a complete incompetency and has proven himself utterly unfit for the trust. He has now been in charge of the estate four years and a half, and the liabilities are now $74,429.28, not including his commissions of $11,000, which make the entire debt $85,858.29.

That shows a reduction of the debt within four and one-half years of $12,500.

Proceeds from Water Sale.

During that time, Executor St. Amand's report to the ordinary shows, so paragraph 14 says, that he has received in actual cash $232,311 and yet with that amount he appears to have been unable to pay a debt of less than $100,000. The sale of water from the springs consumes no little space, and it is asserted that from that business alone he has received over $100,000. From that line of work he has returned and charged himself with $36,000.

"Where is the other $79,000?" asks the paper.

It is asserted that the executor, without authority, sold the waters in New York and from those sales obtained $15,000. He is charged with having obtained from the hotel, the management of which was not authorized by the other heirs, something like $60,000, and, so it is said, like the sum received from the sale of water in New York, it has never been accounted for. As executor, he is charged with having received in cash $387,000.

The sale of the old family home in Atlanta and of other Atlanta real estate is described in the paper, the value of the property and the amounts he is said to have received being shown.

In paragraph twenty it is recited that during his life time Mr. Marsh borrowed from Mr. Porter, of Atlanta, $25,000, for which he paid 7 per cent. When this debt matured, so the papers declare, Executor St. Amand replaced the loan, increasing it to $40,000 at 8 per cent, "notwithstanding the fact that he had during his executorship received nine times that amount of cash."

It is then asserted that Executor St. Amand has been given his way so long that he thinks he owns the estate, and that he will in no way or manner tolerate any interference. Reciting all the facts from a plaintiff's standpoint the intervenor concludes by asking that the estate be placed in the hands of a receiver and that the executor be required to appear before the judge of the superior court and show cause why that receiver should not be made permanent. Judge Lumpkin, after hearing the motion, named Preston Arkwright as temporary receiver and set the final hearing for April 15. Receiver Arkwright was asked to make a bond in the sum of $50,000.

Entire Building---Six Floors

Hurrah! 'Rah! 'Rah! Hurrah!

For the college man who has a definite amount to spend for a Spring Suit, say $15.00, $20.00 or $25.00, this store should have special attraction, for it provides such varieties and qualities as are not equaled. Our Suits at these prices show all the remarkable goodness and grace that fastidious men appreciate.

We court comparison with the confidence that our products are the best in the world for the money.

Every Suit made to our order in our own factory and with the idea of insuring the continuance of the patronage of men of good taste.

Men's Shoes

First Floor

Our general principles are applied to the trade in Shoes, plus the highest technical science of Shoes and the Shoe business. The result, better Shoes and better Shoe service than this market ever saw before. The business grows, and grows, and grows. The bigger the better progress—imperial progress in Shoes.

Our superlative success is with Hess Shoes. They are in the very forefront for style and quality.

We make strong statements whenever the facts warrant. And there is every technical and artistic and economic justification for our claim that the Hess Shoes—for which we are exclusive agents in Atlanta—are the finest Shoes that the world produces.

Boys' Clothing

Entire Second Floor

The small boys lead the Clothing business. Upon their Clothes the largest amount of thought and ingenuity are expended.

The aim is to sustain the charm of childhood.

Just here the happy thought of the Sailor Suit comes in. The man-o'-war-man's togs lend themselves to fabrics and fancies. The kilt vanishes, the Sailor Suit, the Russian Blouse Suit, the Buster Brown Suit appear—and it's the dear lad still in ideally childish rig.

We couldn't say these things unless we had the wares to meet the words. We have them, and that's why the great trade in Boys' Clothing is done here.

We apply the same care and skill to our Clothing for the little fellows that make our men's garments such conspicuous successes. "Just anything will do for the boy" is not our idea of proper and intelligent service.

Tasteful youthful fabrics of tested merit are used—the newest and most popular fashion thoughts are utilized and finest workmanship is insisted upon at all times.

We do not look with favor upon showy, ostentatous styles for boys. Quiet, unobtrusive, "simple elegance" has a stronger charm for us, and our productions are controlled according to that notion.

Manhattan Shirts

They are the favorites of many men—regarded as standards of quality. The season's showing includes all the newest figure and color effects in fine madras and percale. A full line in the various grades.

Earl & Wilson Shirts

Ultra fastidious men are partisan in their preference for Earl and Wilson Shirts. They are made of pure Irish linen, coat styles, attached cuffs, corded bosoms to simulate tucks and plaits—modest designs and colors.

...IAL PRICES WERE UNCHANGED

Slowly Advanced on Uneasiness of Short in Near Positions.

In the Afternoon an Easier Tone Was Shown Under Reports That Spot Offerings in South Were Increasing at the Advance.

New York, March 31.—The cotton market was less active and showed irregularity. Prices at one time were up to the high point of yesterday, but later reacted and closed at practically last night's level. The opening was quiet and steady at unchanged prices, which was better than due on disappointing cables, good weather in the south and the outlook for very big receipts. There were signs of uneasiness among nearby shorts, however, and with moderate bull support the market after the opening slowly advanced until around midday it was net 6 to 8 points higher, or at practically the best point of yesterday. Around 7.80 to 7.81 for May offerings increased somewhat and in the afternoon the market while somewhat irregular, showed an easier tendency under reports that spot offerings in the south were increasing at the advance. The close was quiet, with April and February 1 point lower, May 3 points higher and other positions unchanged.

The New Orleans Market.

New Orleans, March 31.—Spot cotton quiet and steady. Offerings limited and demand fair. Sales 2,400 bales, including 900 to arrive and 50 f. o. b. Delivered on contracts 4,000. Quotations unchanged.

Futures opened quiet and steady and 1 to 2 points up. Responding to manipulation for an advance prices improved 4 to 5 points. Liverpool cables say that apart from efforts to lift the price of cotton the market is in a most healthy condition and operators are gradually being impressed by the bullish features of the staple. During the afternoon profit taking by longs carried prices down until the gains of the session had been entirely lost. The market closed dull, net unchanged to 5 points down.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, March 31.—The market is without particular feature, and yet increased firmness is generally recognized and admitted. In certain directions more activity is in evidence, particularly from the south, where an improvement is regraded as especially favorable. Jobbers expect improvement next week from nearby trade with a continuance of warm weather.

WHEAT AT OPENING WAS QUITE STRONG

Due Mainly to Advance of a Penny in Liverpool.

Market Turned Weak in the Late Trading, July Closing a Shade Lower—Corn, Oats and Provisions Closed Slightly Higher.

Chicago, March 31.—Excellent weather in the United States counteracted the effect of deceased shipments from Argentina, causing a weak close in the wheat market here today, the July option being a shade lower than yesterday's final quotations. May corn is up ⅛@¼c, oats show a gain of ⅛c and provisions are 2½ to 5c higher.

The wheat market opened quite strong, July being up ¼@⅞ to ½@⅝c at 88¾@89c. The initial strength was due largely to an advance of a penny a bushel in the price of wheat at Liverpool, resulting from a considerable decrease in the amount of shipments from Argentina. Shorts were fair bidders for July and September at offerings are not large. On this demand prices advanced a trifle above opening quotations July touching 89¼c. The buying was not particularly pronounced, the volume of business being comparatively light. Later bullish sentiment was reinforced from a report from Indiana, claiming that the wheat crop had been damaged by frost. Advices from Minneapolis also favored the bulls. Cash demand was reported good, and large sales of flour were said to have been made for shipment to the orient. Brilliant weather in the southwest, however, completely offset these influences. A report of a local crop statistican summing up the winter wheat situation made the condition of the new crop 90 per cent as compared with 83.1 last December. Late in the day the market yielded to the bearish factors, July declining to 88¼. The close was weak with July at 88⅜c. Clearances of wheat and flour was equal to 192,700. Exported for the week, as shown by Bradstreet's, were equal to 988,600 bushels. Primary receipts were 350,100 bushels compared with a holiday last year. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 274, against 360 last week.

Sentiment in the corn pit was inclined to bullishness mainly owing to a good cash demand. Shorts bought liberally and the market was strong until late in the day, when prices sagged in sympathy with wheat. Closing quotations however, were a trifle higher than yesterday's final figures. May opened at 47⅛c, sold between 47⅛@47¾c, and closed at 47¼@47⅜c. Local receipts 258 cars, 1 6contract grade.

THE HOTEL BELLECLAIRE appeals especially to what may be called semi-transient visitors: people who desire, for a week or a fortnight or a month, the comforts, conveniences and advantages of New York's great modern hotels, but who wish to avoid some of the noise, the bustle and the expense that are inevitable in an extended visit. For such people THE BELLECLAIRE has furnished suites of one, two or three rooms and bath, which may be occupied at reasonable rates for shorter or longer periods. It is an apartment house with the best features of a hotel. It is a hotel with the best features of an apartment house. And it is absolutely new and absolutely fireproof.

CATARRH TREATED FREE

Absolutely Free During April by Our German Electric Methods

We hereby agree to treat, absolutely free until cured, all cases of Catarrhal Diseases if treatment be commenced during the month of April.

This is not an offer with a "string" to it. It is made in good faith. We especially solicit chronic and so-called incurable cases of Catarrhal Diseases, which need immediate treatment, so that we can convince the skeptical that our methods really cure.

Begin at once. Remember, we do not accept incurable cases. If we cannot help you we frankly tell you so. If we accept your case for treatment and you can be cured this is the institution where you can be cured.

STOCKS IMPROVED LATE IN THE DAY

The Market Was in Hands of Professional Traders.

The Best Prices ofthe Day Were Touched Shortly Before the Close, but Were Not Fully Held, Closing Being Irregular.

New York, March 31.—Today's stock market was in the hands of the professional traders and they made little progress in moving prices. Only a handful of the standard market leaders were as much as a point away from last night's level at any time. The movement, although very sluggish, was a clear index of the conviction on the part of the trading element that the present curtailment of the money market resources is the restrictive influence on speculation and that it is not more than temporary. The comparative tranquility of the call loan rate, which did not get above 4 1-2 per cent, calmed the apprehension and prices improved late in the day. Outside of the professional circle, however, there was no stirring of speculative interest. The estimate of the week's currency movement indicate that the payments to the subtreasury, which footed up $4,577,000, have been offset to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars by receipts from the interior on the express movement. There is no idea that any contraction of loans has been possible during the week, owing to the heavy demands which have had to be met in the money market. The loss in cash will not be offset therefore by any reduction of deposits through decrease in loans. A number of industrials and specialties were strong from individual causes. The southern iron merger, the lead merger, the benefit to New York traction companies from future tunnel enterprise, a settlement of the Montana copper disputes were some of the specific instances of rumors which played a part in the day's market. The best prices of the day were touched shortly before the close, but were not fully held, the closing tone being irregular.

Total sales, par value, $5,050,000. Bonds were irregular.

United States 3s registered and old 4s advanced 1-8 and new 4s 1-4 per cent on call.

Money on call strong and higher at 3 3-4@4 1-2, closing bid at 4 1-4; offered at 4 1-2; time loans firm; 60 and 90 days and six months 3 1-2@3 3-4 per cent; prime mercantile paper 3 3-4@4 1-2 per cent.

Sterling exchange easy with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.85.95@4.86 for demand and at $4.84.05@4.84.10 for 60 day bills; posted rates $4.8 41-2@4.85 and $4.86 1-2@4.87; commercial bills $4.83 1-4@4.83 7-8.

Bar silver 55 3-4c.

Mexican dollars 43c.

Government bonds strong.

Railroad bonds irregular.

Ware & Leland.

WHEAT—There was a strong start on smaller Argentine shipments than expected and a penny advance thereby confirming the bull tips put out last night. A frost bitten crop from India was also used in a bullish way, but the buying was not particularly pronounced, while the market did not display any great amount of activity. Late in the day, offerings became quite free in all the futures, buying orders were scarce and the closing was heavy, with indications of prices working down to lower levels.

CORN—A prominent house bought May and sold July with prices working up on covering by shorts. Weather conditions being fine, the buying soon exhausted itself with the market turning heavy toward the close and presenting a very weak tone.

OATS—The strength in wheat and corn started shorts to covering, creating a fair-sized rally, but bullish sentiment lacking, owing to fine growing weather with prices turning weak in sympathy with wheat and presenting every evidence of breaking former low levels.

PROVISIONS—Higher prices for hogs started a few shorts to covering with the Cudahys bidding up lard and ribs. Trade was very light.

STOCKS—Another quiet day with a strong undertone to the whole list, intensified in the industrial group, is to be reported in the stock market. Most of the day was spent in anticipating a flurry in call money, which was firm with an upward tendency. However, when the publication of preliminary estimates of a big loss for the week to the banks came out, under the lead of a drive at the shorts in Pennsylvania, the entire market rallied moderately. There seemed to be but few stocks for sale, outside of the bear camp all day. The market presented an oversold appearance. We still believe it wise to buy on all reactions, as heretofore stated, being cautious till after the forepart of next week.

The Week's Bank Clearingss.

New York, March 31.—The following table, compiled by Bradstreet's, shows the bank clearings at the cities named for the week ended March 30, with the percentage of increase and decrease as compared with the coresponding week last year. Totals include clearings of fifty-two other cities. Canadian totals include clearings of seven other cities in Canada.

COTTON—The cotton future market today was steady in tone. The bears tried to bring about a little selling, but their efforts were not successful, in that some of the pit interests were inclined to support the long side of the account in consequence of the continued strength of the spot situation and the rumors of an early decrease in the movement due to a concerted effort on the part of the southern holders to keep prices on a good level over the seeding period. Stocks of cotton in many localities, however, were figured to be extensive and the arguments in this connection worked as an offset to the continued favorable reports from the spinning and dry goods centers. The foreign developments were sympathetic with affairs on this side and the foreign houses had few orders of consequence.

WHEAT—The wheat market showed a somewhat better tendency today, although the trade was not very active. It was evident that some of the erstwhile bear interests were less aggressive, while at the same time, some of the outside longs were inclined to add to their lines. As a whole sentiment was still rather mixed, however, neither the bulls nor the bears [illegible] to [illegible] in view of the favorable crop situation and the evidences of acumulations in the west, due to a small cash demand and a rather nervous trend among actual consumers. The foreign advices were without feature, the Argentine statistics being about up to expectations.

CORN and oats were fairly active. There was a fair demand on the lower levels, but the buying was not of an aggressive type and there were those who figured on the likelihood of further bearish developments, due to the small cash business and the increase in the country offerings. The seaboard interests expressed confidence in their belief that the export business was likely to increase materially in the near future. There was talk of an increase in the oats acreage in the southwest and west.

PROVISIONS continued dull with the professionals in control. Packers in a number of cases gave moderate support, but the buying at no time was very extensive.

COTTON—The New York market opened practically unchanged this morning, after a steady opening in Liverpool at about 2 points advance from yesterday's close. Support was good after the opening and prices steadily advanced. Hagedorn, McFadden, W. P. Brown, Sully and Theodore Price are said to be heavy buyers. New Orleans is said to have a big short interest and it now looks as if there is going to be a case of gunning. At this time an extract from The Cotton Gazette, of Liverpool, is of interest, it says: "The whole position is really very simple. A huge crop is grown. The holders of the balance of the crop not yet marketed are sufficiently well off to be very independent. The world knows that, in addition to daily trade demands everywhere to cover continuous new business, original contractors for forward delivery are still, and must be for some time, in a very tight place. Any selling by farmers on the recent advances is mainly absorbed in part filling of previous sales. Ordinary business on profitable lines to any extent by the importer is quite out of the question. Consumption, if anything, is everywhere on the increase. In Lancashire it cannot increase so far as spindle and loom output are concerned, but still larger engagements for the existing machinery are being entered into, and it may just as well be accepted at once that neither price nor delivery are yet going to stop the world-wide demand for goods. Meantime known stocks are diminishing. Cotton exists, but for the time being, demand is ahead of present supply. Trading on all this, bull speculation in America is inclined to force matters. It can and probably will do so, and for a time certainly southern interests, banking interests and otherwise will support New York manipulators on the bull side. There is little more to say. The facts are there and must be accepted, palatable or not. Speculation of a disturbing character will probably play ducks and drakes with placid theories. The opportunist will score, and the man who is well sold and fairly covered will score best of all."

STOCKS—Call money is still quoted at 3¾ and 4 per cent, but in spite of this the market is swayed by optimistic views. Sentiment was a little mixed in London this morning, but our market opened steady at a slight advance from last night's close. Trading, however, has been dull mainly on account of the lack of any definite news as to the progress of negotiations for peace as between Russia and Japan. The opening of the Japanese bond subscription is having a broadening influence on the market and continued strength has been exhibited through the day. The situation in the East is watched with interest, and no doubt the turn of events there will be largely reflected in our stock quotations.

Southern Exchange.

COTTON—Early cables today were 2 to 3 points better; spots unchanged; sales 8,000. The New York market opened quiet and practically unchanged from yesterday, but before the end of the first hour developed some animation with an upward movement of 7 to 8 points and again became dull. Sentiment in New York, and especially with the large operators, appears decidedly to favor higher prices, but the volume of liquidation around the high figures of yesterday and today is such that effort is inevitably weakening. Weather for planting continues ideal with the volume of receipts resembling those of October, being estimated today at 42,000, against 5,477 last year.

STOCKS—A more cheerful sentiment prevailed at the opening this morning, although London was indifferent. Influencing factors appeared to be continued ease in money rates notwithstanding preparation for subscriptions to Japanese loan, [illegible] ordinary payments around 1st of April and quarter. Prices thr[illegible] the railroad lists show gains of s[illegible] fractions. Union Pacific opened up ⅝, a like gain was shown by New [illegible] Central Wabash preferred opened up [illegible]. In the industrial group, iron and [illegible] stocks were strong, helped by reports [illegible] renewed confidence looking toward [illegible] merger. Metropolitan securities were [illegible] strong feature of local traction gr[illegible] Transactions, however, were on a s[illegible] scale, and after the last ten min[illegible] prices developed some irregularity [illegible] a disposition to accept all offerings [illegible] concessions.

WHEAT—Early sentiment was no[illegible] bearish as of late, and prices were [illegible] sustained on moderate buying by c[illegible] mission houses and covering by r[illegible] shorts. A crop expert estimates for [illegible] end of March the condition of wi[illegible] wheat 90 per cent, against 80.1 per [illegible] last year and 83.1 per cent at the [illegible] of last December. There has been [illegible] damage done and the full acreage see[illegible] last autumn will go to harvest. The c[illegible] is good, the stand satisfactory and [illegible] soil moist everywhere, and there is [illegible] evidence of Hessian fly to any appr[illegible] able extent. The present prospect is fu[illegible] 5 points above the average for a series [illegible] years, and it is remarkable for the u[illegible] formity of reports, both by states [illegible] by counties. The Modern Miller sta[illegible] "Excepting a few scattered reports, c[illegible] maintains its highly favorable conditio[illegible] From California comes reports of r[illegible] owing to excessive rains, and crop[illegible] northern states of the Pacific coast [illegible] only fair prospects."

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

COTTON—Although Liverpool was d[illegible] appointing to the bulls the market [illegible] shown remarkable steadiness during [illegible] forenoon and telegrams from New [illegible] leans reports the prevalence of a b[illegible] ter feeling there, based upon the [illegible] of possible unfavorable weather con[illegible] tions in the future. The bearish facto[illegible] appear discounted for the present. Speculation is light and local with only a moderate demand, but sufficient to absorb the offerings. The disposition is to await developments of the new planting season with the promise of lessened acreage. Upon this the course of prices appears now to depend so long as the surplus is not forced upon the market. The spot market was quiet at unchanged prices.

CATARRH TREATED FREE
Absolutely Free During April by Our German Electric Methods

We hereby agree to treat, absolutely free until cured, all cases of Catarrhal Diseases if treatment be commenced during the month of April.

This is not an offer with a "string" to it. It is made in good faith. We especially solicit chronic and so-called incurable cases of Catarrhal Diseases, which need immediate treatment, so that we can convince the skeptical that our methods really cure.

Take advantage of this opportunity at once. In the treatment of over 400 cases of Catarrhal Diseases during the past ninety days we found forty-eight to be incurable. Do not delay treatment. Begin at once. Remember, we do not accept incurable cases. If we cannot help you we frankly tell you so. If we accept your case for treatment and you can be cured this is the institution where you can be cured.

CATARRH Relieved in One Treatment. Cured in 21 Treatments. DEAFNESS

We treat the following Diseases on this most liberal proposition:

That Is: "Not a Dollar Need Be Paid Until Cured."

All chronic diseases, such as STRICTURE, VARICOCELE, RUPTURE, Piles, Blood and Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Troubles, Cancers, Tumors and CHRONIC DISEASES OF WOMEN quickly cured. Hours, 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.; Sunday, 9 to 2. Consultation and advice FREE, in person or by mail.

STOCKS IMPROVED LATE IN THE DAY

The Market Was in Hands of Professional Traders.

The Best Prices of the Day Were Touched Shortly Before the Close, but Were Not Fully Held, Closing Being Irregular.

New York, March 31.—Today's stock market was in the hands of the professional traders and they made little progress in moving prices. Only a handful of the standard market leaders were as much as a point away from last night's level at any time. The movement, although very sluggish, was a clear index of the conviction on the part of the trading element that the present curtailment of the money market resources is the restrictive influence on speculation and that it is not more than temporary. The comparative tranquility of the call loan rate, which did not get above 4 1-2 per cent, calmed the apprehension and prices improved late in the day. Outside of the professional circle, however, there was no stirring of speculative interest. The estimate of the week's currency movement indicate that the payments to the subtreasury, which footed up $4,577,000, have been offset to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars by receipts from the interior on the express movement. There is no idea that any contraction of loans has been possible during the week, owing to the heavy demands which have had to be met in the money market. The loss in cash will not be offset therefore by any reduction of deposits through decrease in loans. A number of industrials and specialties were strong from individual causes. The southern iron merger, the lead merger, the benefit to New York traction companies from future tunnel enterprise, a settlement of the Montana copper disputes were some of the specific instances of rumors which played a part in the day's market. The best prices of the day were touched shortly before the close, but were not fully held, the closing tone being irregular.

Total sales, par value, $5,050,000. Bonds were irregular.

United States 3s registered and old 4s advanced 1-8 and new 4s 1-4 per cent on call.

Money on call strong and higher at 3 3-4@4 1-2, closing bid at 4 1-4; offered at 4 1-2; time loans firm; 60 and 90 days and six months 3 1-2@3 3-4 per cent; prime mercantile paper 3 3-4@4 1-2 per cent.

Sterling exchange easy with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.85.95@4.86 for demand and at $4.84.05@4.84.10 for 60 day bills; posted rates $4.8 41-2@4.85 and $4.86 1-2@4.87; commercial bills $4.83 1-4@4.83 7-8.

Bar silver 55 3-4c.

Mexican dollars 43c.

Government bonds strong.

Railroad bonds irregular.

WHEAT—There was a strong start on smaller Argentine shipments than expected and a penny advance thereby confirming the bull tips put out last night. A frost bitten cable from India was also used in a bullish war, but the buying was not particularly pronounced, while the market did not display any great amount of activity. Late in the day, offerings became quite free in all the futures, buying orders were scarce and the closing was heavy, with indications of prices working down to lower levels.

CORN—A prominent house bought May and sold July with prices working up on all futures due to covering by shorts, with attempts to create bullish enthusiasm on the large export business yesterday. Weather conditions being fine, the buying soon exhausted itself with the market turning heavy toward the close and presenting a very weak tone.

OATS—The strength in wheat and corn started shorts to covering, creating a fair-sized rally, but bullish sentiment lacking, owing to fine growing weather with prices turning weak in sympathy with wheat and presenting every evidence of breaking former low levels.

PROVISIONS—Higher prices for hogs started a few shorts to covering with the Cudahys bidding up lard and ribs. Trade was very light.

STOCKS—Another quiet day with a strong undertone to the whole list, intensified in the industrial group, is to be reported in the stock market. Most of the day was spent in anticipating a flurry in call money, which was firm with an upward tendency. However, when the publication of preliminary estimates of a big loss for the week to the banks came out, under the lead of a drive at the shorts in Pennsylvania, the entire market rallied moderately. There seemed to be but few stocks for sale, outside of the bear camp all day. The market presented an oversold appearance. We still believe it wise to buy on all reactions, as heretofore stated, being cautious till after the forepart of next week.

The Week's Bank Clearings.

New York, March 31.—The following table, compiled by Bradstreet's, shows the bank clearings at the cities named for the week ended March 30, with the percentage of increase and decrease as compared with the corresponding week last year. Totals include clearings of fifty-two other cities. Canadian totals include clearings of seven other cities in Canada.

COTTON—The cotton future market today was steady in tone. The bears tried to bring about a little selling, but their efforts were not successful, in that some of the pit interests were inclined to support the long side of the account in consequence of the continued strength of the spot situation and the rumors of an early decrease in the movement due to a concerted effort on the part of the southern holders to keep prices on a good level over the seeding period. Stocks of cotton in many localities, however, were figured to be extensive and the arguments in this connection worked as an offset to the continued favorable reports from the spinning and dry goods centers. The foreign developments were sympathetic with affairs on this side and the foreign houses had few orders of consequence.

WHEAT—The wheat market showed a somewhat better tendency today, although the trade was not very active. It was evident that some of the erstwhile bear interests were less aggressive, while at the same time, some of the outside longs were inclined to add to their lines. As a whole sentiment was still rather mixed, however, and neither the bulls nor the bears were anxious to enlarge the number of their open commitments in view of the favorable crop situation and the evidences of acumulations in the west, due to a small cash demand and a rather nervous trend among actual consumers. The foreign advices were without feature, the Argentine statistics being about up to expectations.

CORN and oats were fairly active. There was a fair demand on the lower levels, but the buying was not of an aggressive type and there were those who figured on the likelihood of further bearish developments, due to the small cash business and the increase in the country offerings. The seaboard interests expressed confidence in their belief that the export business was likely to increase materially in the near future. There was talk of an increase in the oats acreage in the southwest and west.

PROVISIONS continued dull with the professionals in control. Packers in a number of cases gave moderate support, but the buying at no time was very extensive.

COTTON—The New York market opened practically unchanged this morning, after a steady opening in Liverpool at about 2 points advance from yesterday's close. Support was good after the opening and prices steadily advanced. Hagedorn, McFadden, W. P. Brown, Sully and Theodore Price are said to be heavy buyers. New Orleans is said to have a big short interest and it now looks as if there is going to be a case of gunning. At this time an extract from The Cotton Gazette, of Liverpool, is of interest, it says: "The whole position is really very simple. A huge crop is grown. The holders of the balance of the crop not yet marketed are sufficiently well off to be very independent. The world knows that, in addition to daily trade demands everywhere to cover continuous new business, original contractors for forward delivery are still, and must be for some time, in a very tight place. Any selling by farmers on the recent advances is mainly absorbed in part filling of previous sales. Ordinary business on profitable lines to any extent by the importer is quite out of the question. Consumption, if anything, is everywhere on the increase. In Lancashire it cannot increase so far as spindle and loom output are concerned, but still larger engagements for the existing machinery are being entered into, and it may just as well be accepted at once that neither price nor delivery are yet going to stop the world-wide demand for goods. Meantime known stocks are diminishing. Cotton exists, but for the time being, demand is ahead of present supply. Trading on all this, bull speculation in America is inclined to force matters. It can and probably will do so, and for a time certainly southern interests, banking interests and otherwise will support New York manipulators on the bull side. There is little more to say. The facts are there and must be accepted, palatable or not. Speculation of a disturbing character will probably play ducks and drakes with placid theories. The opportunist will score, and the man who is well sold and fairly covered will score best of all."

STOCKS—Call money is still quoted at 3¾ and 4 per cent, but in spite of this the market is swayed by optimistic views. Sentiment was a little mixed in London this morning, but our market opened steady at a slight advance from last night's close. Trading, however, has been dull mainly on account of the lack of any definite news as to the progress of negotiations for peace as between Russia and Japan. The opening of the Japanese bond subscription is having a broadening influence on the market and continued strength has been exhibited through the day. The situation in the East is watched with interest, and no doubt the turn of events there will be largely reflected in our stock quotations.

Southern Exchange.

COTTON—Early cables today were 2 to 3 points better; spots unchanged; sales 8,000. The New York market opened quiet and practically unchanged from yesterday, but before the end of the first hour developed some animation with an upward movement of 7 to 8 points and again became dull. Sentiment in New York, and especially with the large operators, appears decidedly to favor higher prices, but the volume of liquidation around the high figures of yesterday and today is such that effort is inevitably weakening. Weather for planting continues ideal with the volume of receipts resembling those of October, being estimated today at 42,000, against 5,477 last year.

STOCKS—A more cheerful sentiment prevailed at the opening this morning, although London was indifferent. Influencing factors appeared to be continued ease in money rates notwithstanding preparation for subscriptions to Japanese loan, as well as ordinary payments around 1st of April and quarter. Prices through the railroad lists show gains of small fractions. Union Pacific opened up ⅜, and a like gain was shown by New York Central Wabash preferred opened up ½. In the industrial group, iron and steel stocks were strong, helped by reports of renewed confidence looking toward a merger. Metropolitan securities were a strong feature of local traction group. Transactions, however, were on a small scale, and after the last ten minutes prices developed some irregularity with a disposition to accept all offerings at concessions.

WHEAT—Early sentiment was not so bearish as of late, and prices were well sustained on moderate buying by commission houses and covering by room shorts. A crop expert estimates for the end of March the condition of winter wheat 90 per cent, against 80.1 per cent last year and 83.1 per cent at the end of last December. There has been no damage done and the full acreage seeded last autumn will go to harvest. The color is good, the stand satisfactory and the soil moist everywhere, and there is no evidence of Hessian fly to any appreciable extent. The present prospect is fully 5 points above the average for a series of years, and it is remarkable for the uniformity of reports, both by states and by counties. The Modern Miller states: "Excepting a few scattered reports, crop maintains its highly favorable conditions. From California comes reports of rust, owing to excessive rains, and crop in northern states of the Pacific coast has only fair prospects."

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

COTTON—Although Liverpool was disappointing to the bulls the market has shown remarkable steadiness during the forenoon and telegrams from New Orleans reports the prevalence of a better feeling there, based upon the fear of possible unfavorable weather conditions in the future. The bearish factors appear discounted for the present. Speculation is light and local with only a moderate demand, but sufficient to absorb the offerings. The disposition is to await developments of the new planting season with the promise of lessened acreage. Upon this the course of prices appears now to depend so long as the surplus is not forced upon the market. The spot market was quiet at unchanged prices.
